

Where can I go for help?

The Camden County Workforce Development Board, Literacy Committee, recognizes the value of obtaining a library card. To access adult & youth literacy help, work readiness training, and jobseeker & employer assistance, Visit the WDB Website for links to Employment, Training & Career Planning Resources www.ccwib.com

Phone: (856)-751-1500

The local library is a safe place to get help! All libraries offer free memberships to residents in their township or municipality. There may be a charge to use services in other locations. There are some exceptions to the residency rule. Business owners, teachers, Camden County employees, Camden County College students, non-profit organizations, library volunteers, and Literacy Volunteers of America tutors and students may be eligible for a free library card. Be sure to bring proof of residency or exception ID on your visit.

(Not all libraries in the County provide the same services. Check the websites or call the phone numbers listed below for details.)

Library Resource Guide

The Camden County Library System Member Communities

The County Library System provides free access to books, AV materials, digital collections including e-books, digital magazines, downloadable audio-books, digital and streaming music and streaming video, public computers, museum passes, hotspot and Chromebook lending, story times, programs, classes and much more at eight branch locations.

How to apply for a library card

<https://www.camdencountylibrary.org/get-library-card>

Residents in member communities, businesses and non-profits located in Camden County are eligible for free library cards. Free cards are also available to employees of Camden County public, private and parochial K-12 schools, and all Camden County homeschoolers, veterans, and active-duty military.

If you reside in a nonmember community or a community outside of Camden County, you may purchase a family library card for $85 a year. Six-month cards for $50 and three-month cards for $25 are also available. Residents in nonmember communities who are 65 or older may purchase a library card at a reduced rate of $20 a year.

*Please note that the Camden County Library System is committed to ensuring access to information resources during the COVID-19 pandemic. Therefore, all County residents may receive free library cards until December 31, 2021. Please contact a library branch for more information.
